DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 2 is objected to because of the following informalities: in line 6, "the tubular cover" lacks antecedent basis and should be --a tubular cover--.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Johnson 1,394,259 or Johnson 1,566,965 in view of Weinraub 6,725,692.

Both Johnson references teach padlock casings 5 having a keyhole 10 and shackle holes to receive a cable shackle (20;16 respectively) encased within a tubular sheath comprised of a series of round projections and curved recesses with a fixed bolt end (at 24; at 19) having a hole to receive the cable and a curved upper portion and an annular groove. The fixed bolt end engaged within the casing and a removable bolt end (at 37; at 31) with an annular groove (at 31; at 27) to receive lock means (15;15) therein. Johnson fails to teach a fixing pin in a vertical side wall of the casing to engage the fixed end of the shackle.

Art Unit: 3676

Weinraub clearly teaches the well known use of a fixing pin 39 in a vertical side wall hole 40h to engage the fixed end of a shackle 38a. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the casing of Johnson by providing a substitute fixing means for the fixed shackle end as taught by Weinraub to be well known in the art as a functional equivalent.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 10/12/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. As set forth above, the prior art patents to Johnson are deemed to teach the cable shackle and tubular cover member as claimed including the various annular grooves, curved recesses and fixing bolt holes. Furthermore, Weinraub clearly teaches the use of a fixing pin in a vertical side wall as a means to fix one end of a shackle within a casing. Accordingly, claim 2 stands rejected.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
